

Couvent des Minimes

Restaurant Le Jardin du Cloître

The menu in your hands is made from eco-responsible materials

The religious order of the Minims means "the very little ones" and was founded in the early 15th century (1436) in Calabria by Saint Francis of Paola. The order was introduced to France in 1482 and arrived in Lille in 1618. The rule of the Minims was one of the most severe because in addition to following the three classical vows (poverty, obedience and chastity), the Minims brothers lived a daily life of penance and self-denial by following a perpetual Lenten fast.

Le Couvent des Minimes in Lille originally housed about fifteen religious. On 30 March 1742, the convent suffered a violent fire which led to the reconstruction of the building. In 1791, the Minims brothers, who were only 9, decided to leave the convent, probably to escape the French Revolution.
